

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

CHEF : DEBBIE GOLD

James Beard Foundation award winner and four-time Top Chef Masters competitor nominee, Chef Debbie Gold is the Culinary Director of the AMDP restaurant group. She graduated in Restaurant Management from the University of Illinois. From there, he spent four years in France working in some of the country's most famous restaurants. Upon returning to the US: Debbie continued her training with the legendary Charlie Trotter, Chef Jean Joho and finally as Chef at Mirador. She moved to Kansas City to begin a stellar twenty-year career. In 2017, she returned to her hometown of Chicago as executive chef at Tied House, where the Chicago Tribune gave her three stars. She partnered with restaurateur Amy Morton and joined her as executive chef at the AMDP restaurant group.

